

Open letter to the Jenkins community

As we've been discussing over the past few months, we need a slightly creative approach in the trademark registration, due to our slow progress to seek the umbrella organization. Namely, we'll be registering the trademark under my name, with assistance from CloudBees, then further transfer it to the eventual umbrella organization that we choose.

So this is my public pledge to the community, that I consider myself a temporary holder of the trademark, and that I will transfer it to the entity that the Jenkins governance board designates, when that resolution is made.
